Advancement rules for slide & e-images

General Rules

1. Slides and e-images are collectively described as images throughout the handbook.
2. There are four (4) divisions in the slide & e-image sections: Beginner, Intermediate, Advanced, and Beret.
3. In order to progress from one section to the next, members must submit images for advancement judging at the first meeting of each month.
4. A maximum of six (6) images in total may be submitted subject to a maximum of four (4) e-images.
5. Slides and e-images are judged separately.
6. Images are either scored using the salon method (ordinarily using 3 judges) whereby each judge scores the images from 1 to 5 (i.e. each image may therefore receive a score of 3 – 15) or by a single judge who allocates Bronze, Silver, Gold or Certificate of Merit awards. The relationship between salon judging scores and awards is detailed on page 7.
7. Each Gold award or Certificate of Merit counts as one (1) acceptance. (Lower awards do not count towards advancement).
8. Images awarded a re-submittable silver award (or equivalent salon judging score) may be submitted for re-judging at the following meeting only.
9. Members of other photographic clubs who join JPS will automatically commence in the beginners division unless they hold PSSA honours or submit, as is their option, an entry panel of twelve (12) images. With regard to the latter, three (3) competent JPS judges will judge the panel and determine the number of acceptances and entry level division (either beginner, intermediate or advanced). No image from such panels may be used thereafter for advancement judging. They may, however, be used in club competitions. PSSA honours holders will automatically enter the Beret division and be awarded the following number of acceptances:
  - LPSSA = 6
  - APSSA = 12
  - FPSSA = 18
  - MPSSA = 0
10. The onus rests on members to ensure that their images are judged in the correct division.

Beginner Division

1. Members in the Beginner division are required to gain nine (9) acceptances for promotion to the Intermediate division.
2. The nine (9) acceptances should be from at least two (2) sub-categories, with not more than five (5) in any one (1) sub-category.
3. Beginner division images are judged on the basis of focus, exposure and elements of composition.

Intermediate Division

JPS Camera Club

Advanced Division

1. Members in the Advanced division are required to gain twenty four (24) acceptances for promotion to the Beret division.

5. Members progress from one section to the next by the successful submission of print panels.
